

9. If you are a believer, what does it do for your significance as a person knowing the extent in which God loves you?

10. Christianity is the only faith that teaches of a God that loved us so much as to DO something for us (sacrifice His Son). Knowing that love is a major tenet of the Christian faith, how important is it for us to live it out well.

Making It Personal

1. How much does your self-worth depend on others?

2. What are some practical ways you can exhibit God's love to someone this week?

Sermon Notes

Here are ways to connect further with us:

www.villagegreenchurch.com

Life Group Study Notes

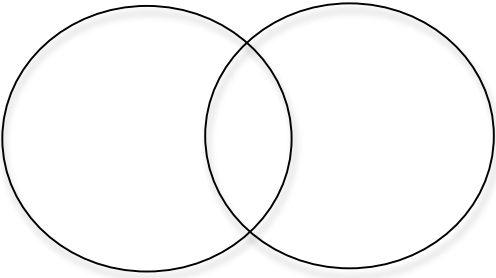

Message from Sunday September 28, 2014
Village Green Community Church
By Jon Korkidakis

What Could Be Better?
What If – Part 3

This Week's Message

For centuries it has served as fodder for music, poetry, movies, and plays. We have difficulty defining and managing it, but little trouble recognizing when it's gone. Without it life would hardly be worth the effort, but when its in full bloom nothing else matters. In this message we ponder the difference that love makes, and the way it shapes our entire existence.

Study

1. What was the big takeaway for you from last week's study? Why?
2. What is the irreducible need of every man, women, and child? Knowing this, why do we struggle to satisfy this need in others?
3. When it comes to our significance, what is it that gives us the sense that we are important?
4. What are the two arenas of love? Redraw the diagram as given in the message and discuss each point.

5. What is the conditional nature of love? How does this impact the way that we love?
6. In reading 1 John 4:16, how is love defined, and how should that shape our understanding of God's nature?
7. Read Romans 8:31-39. How does this passage inform us about the unconditional nature of God's love?
8. How does Christ demonstrate the full extent of God's love? What takeaways can we gain for our personal life?