When the Best and the Worst Collide

As the women were on their way, some of the guards went into the city and told the leading priests what had happened.

¹² A meeting with the elders was called, and they decided to give the soldiers a large bribe.

¹³ They told the soldiers, "You must say, 'Jesus' disciples came during the night while we were sleeping, and they stole his body.'

¹⁴ If the governor hears about it, we'll stand up for you so you won't get in trouble."

¹⁵ So the guards accepted the bribe and said what they were told to say. Their story spread widely among the Jews, and they still tell it today.

¹⁴ And if Christ has not been raised, then all our preaching is useless, and your faith is useless.

A man in a light-colored suit and dark tie sits on a wooden bench against a textured wall. To his left, a chalk drawing of a devil with horns, wings, and a pitchfork is on the wall. A grey text box is on the right, and another is at the bottom.
